

To Whom it May Concern,

The Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA), a non-profit organization, has placed an importance on connecting students to the business world. This year FBLA Arizona is working diligently to establish sponsorship relationships. We are reaching out to your business to ask if you are interested in making an impact on the future of the business world and supporting our co- curricular organization of future business leaders.

FBLA inspires and prepares students to become community-minded business leaders in a global society through career preparation and leadership experiences. The organization is comprised of over 200,000 members in our high school, middle school, and collegiate divisions alone, as well as school faculty that works alongside us and business professionals who have chosen to be a part of our organization. In Arizona, we currently have 8,400 high school members and 240 middle school members. We deeply value the development of leadership in our members and aim to create a responsible character model for our members through our motto, “Service, Education, and Progress”.

Some examples of opportunities we offer our members are access to a variety of Career-Building Workshops, Connections to both people of business and fellow members, as well as offering a fun high school experience. To help support some of these opportunities that FBLA offers, we have several partnership packages that we offer. We have included a copy of the sponsorship packages we offer in this letter. Please, take a moment to review the various ways you can help us support the future of the American workforce in the attached sponsorship package, or by visiting our website, at www.azfbla.org. Your donation will allow FBLA members access to leadership programs, as well as supplement educational programs, and recognition awards. These donations qualify as tax donations. The tax number is 23-7157588.
